Dear Hunter Mill Friends,

Spring is a glorious time in the Hunter Mill District. As I travel around the County, I see the pride in our homes, businesses and community on display in gardens lush with blooming azaleas, tulips, daffodils, dogwoods, and redbuds. The symphony of colors is both rejuvenating and reinvigorating. Springtime is when we venture out to celebrate at community festivals and celebrations. I hope you will take the opportunity to get out and enjoy these events and take in some of the seasonal beauty in our parks.

There are many things starting to bloom here in the Hunter Mill District besides the flora. Here's just a few of the highlights of things "growing" in the district:

- Construction has begun on the new North County Governmental Center that houses the Reston District Police and the Hunter Mill District Supervisor's office. The land was cleared for a new building that will be constructed right next to our existing facility. This plan allows our operations to continue uninterrupted and without the need for additional moves.
- Construction also begins this month South Lakes High School athletic facilities. Thanks to a coalition of community organizations and County agencies, artificial turf will be installed on the stadium field and a new practice field will have new turf and lights. These improvements will allow for a significant increase in use by the school and community sports organizations.
- Vienna area schools competed this week in Vienna's Fifth Annual Bike/Walk Challenge. Cunningham Park, Louise Archer, Marshall Road, Westbriar, Wolftrap, and Vienna Elementary Schools tracked the number of walkers and bikers for the entire week. This week, 5,568 kids walked or biked to school. On average, over 1,000 kids participated each day, even on the two rainy days.
- The Park Authority held the first meeting to get community input on the Baron Cameron Park master plan. This is the first step in developing a long-range vision and plans for improving the park. No matter what is eventually decided on the proposed recreation center, the park will see improvements that will enhance this facility.
- Fairfax Connection secured addition funding to operate expanded mid-day, night and weekend service in Reston in conjunction to the opening of the Wiehle Station. The enhanced service will offer more comprehensive transit options.
- Virginia Department of Transportation accelerated the repair and enhancements of the Beulah Road bridge. This project is now on schedule for completion this month.

Stuart Road Park will soon enjoy a new, improved playground. The Park Authority is replacing the old equipment with a bright, attractive unit that will delight kids of all ages.

Happy Spring!

Cathy Hudgins

Operation Medicine Cabinet Cleanout: May 27 to June 1

Prescription drug abuse is a growing problem even here in Fairfax County. More than one in ten of our county students has taken a prescription drug that was not prescribed for them. More than 70% of those who misused a prescription drug obtained them from friends or family, often without their knowledge. Proper disposal of medications helps to prevent misuse and accidental poisonings, and helps to protect our environment.

Drop off unused or expired medications at the Reston District Police Station (12000 Bowman Towne Drive). Pills or liquids only; no pressurized canisters or needles. Disposal is free, convenient, confidential and safe. This program is sponsored by the Unified Prevention Coalition of Fairfax County, in cooperation with our County police stations.

Serve Your Community: Serve as an Election Officer

Fairfax County, the largest county in Virginia, needs 3,000 Election Officers on election days. The hours are long, the pay is small, but the contribution to the democratic process is priceless. Training classes are scheduled during the month of May to qualify residents as election officers and work the polls on election days.

Qualified citizens must be a registered Virginia voter, be fluent in English, fulfill Federal I-9 employment requirements, attend a training class, and have basic computer skills. Election Officers arrive early on election day (5 a.m.), set up voting equipment and prepare polling place for voting, check in and assist voters, tally and certify results and close the polls. Whenever possible, officers are assigned to their "home" precinct. Election Officers work from 5 a.m. and remain until all work is completed after the close of the polls.

To qualify as an election official, register for the training workshops coming up in May. Workshops last 2-3 hours. Workshops are scheduled during the day and evenings, and are held at the Fairfax County Government Center in Fairfax.

For additional information, contact the County's General Registrar at 703-324-2205, or visit the webpage for Election Officers.

Crime Prevention Tips

Fairfax County Police ask resident to remember to;

- Lock your doors! Your car doors, your front and back doors, your basement door, the door to your garage, and your sliding doors should be locked even when you are home.
- Remove your valuables from your car, or at least, put them out of plain sight! There should be nothing of value visible in your car, including your car keys and charger cables. Your valuables cannot be stolen from your car if they are not in your car.
- Record your serial numbers! Small electronics like smart phones, cameras and laptops are big targets. All of these types of devices have a serial number on them. Write them down and keep them in a safe place, preferably not on your computer or laptop.
- Report suspicious activity when you see it! Suspicious activity is anything that is out of the ordinary. Call the non-emergency number, 703-691-2131, to report suspicious activity. If you see what you think is crime occurring in your presence, call 9-1-1.

Transportation

Dulles Rail Phase 1 Update

The Dulles Corridor Rail Project is 94% complete. Project workers are currently testing rail cars throughout the newly built system to make sure the trains are able to move through the system without any obstructions. Once the construction is 100% complete, the rail project will be turned over to Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) to complete their final testing and modifications before the opening of the rail facilities in December. The Board of Supervisors is preparing for an announcement about $1.9 billion in additional funding from the Transportation Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act (TIFIA) funding program administered by the US Department of Transportation. This funding would provide flexibility among the different funding partners on the Dulles Corridor Rail Project.

On the Dulles Corridor Rail Project Phase 2, the Metropolitan Washington Airport Authority (MWAA) Board of Directors received bid proposals for the rail system and Metrorail stations. A award announcement is expected to be made in the coming weeks. Additional information about the individual bid proposals can be found at <http://www.mwaa.com/6038.htm> and www.dullesmetro.com.

This study is to identify an optimum configuration for increased ramp connections between Tysons Corner and the Dulles Toll Road (DTR). The additional ramp connections will provide additional access to and from Tysons and the DTR with goals of providing the best traffic flow, being cost effective, and requiring the minimum right-of-way with the least impacts to adjacent properties and the environment. For more information, visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/fcdot or contact the Hunter Mill District office.

Baron Cameron Park Master Planning

The Fairfax County Park Authority began the public planning process for the Baron Cameron Park Master Plan Revision with a well-attended community meeting held on May 7th. The microphones were then opened up to hear comments from those in the audience. The next step in the master planning process will be collecting the comments from the community meeting and those comments submitted via mail or email. Staff will then develop a DRAFT master plan. The master plan serves as a long-range vision (10-20 years) for future development and programming. Issues typically addressed include planned park elements, natural and cultural resource management, and general design concerns. Park planning staff will have a draft master plan ready for presentation and public review by this fall. Information on the Baron Cameron Master Plan is available online.
